The Skincare E-Summit

Thank you for registering!

A common critique of industry events is that they are either too expensive for attendees, close their eyes to misinformation, are geographically exclusive, or all of the above. We put this event together to demonstrate how accessibility makes a difference. Our attempt to democratize accurate information for the cosmetics industry.

Interested in supporting our free e-conference initiative? Please share that you're attending, share some of your take-aways from the summit throughout the day, and share the replay!
